

Center for Library Science - Spring Internship 2023

U.S. Government Accountability Office

Who

The U.S. Government Accountability Office (GAO) is an independent, nonpartisan agency that works for Congress. We accomplish our mission by providing objective and reliable information and analysis to the Congress, to federal agencies, and to the public, and recommending improvements, when appropriate, on a wide variety of issues to make government work better.

The Center for Library Science (CLS), part of Applied Research and Methods at GAO, is seeking current students in Masters of Library and Information Science programs to apply for a spring internship.

What

Full-time or part-time paid internship, salary $50,643 - $61,947 per year. Other perks include transit benefits and a flexible work schedule.

Types of work include specialized research in support of GAO audit work, collection development, and work with library systems.

Where

GAO Headquarters in Washington, DC. Telework is available.

When

Spring 2023 (Anticipated start date in January for 400 to 640 hours total).

Applications due 10/28/2022.

Why

- ❖ Interning at GAO provides a great introduction to Federal Government work and culture. Make your mark in civil service and work with those who care about improving government.

- ❖ Working with the CLS team will allow you to be mentored by top-notch research librarians and give you hands-on experience.
- ❖ Potential for fulfilling internship, practicum, and capstone requirements. Once accepted, we will be happy to work with you to get credit for your program requirements.
- ❖ Potential for a permanent job offer after graduation.

How to Apply
