

Reignite Your Programming: Executing a Yearlong Series

Are you looking to rekindle a strong connection with your community? Have you ever considered a yearlong program idea? Attend this session to learn about one public library's journey to organically spark their communities' interests for the arts and reignite their staff's passion for programming. Over the course of a year, the Monroe Free Library facilitated a year's worth of programs that utilized in-house talent, library displays, exhibitions, and local artists. In this session, the presenters will share how they got started, triumphs, fails, budgeting, marketing efforts and how they sustained the effort and motivation to make this series a success.

Samantha Angarola - Michael Maggin - Amanda Primiano - Elizabeth Perle

The screenshot displays the NYLA 2023 Annual Conference and Trade Show website. The main navigation bar includes Dashboard, Floorplan, Schedule, Presenters, Exhibitors, and Attendees. The event details for 'Reignite Your Programming: Executing a Yearlong Series' are shown in a modal window. The event is scheduled for Thursday, November 2nd, 2023, from 04:00 to 05:15p. The location is Travers. The event type is 'Event Check-in' with a link to check in. The sponsor is IDEAS. The presenters listed are Amanda Primiano, Samantha Angarola, Michael Maggin, and Elizabeth Perle. The event description is: 'Are you looking to rekindle a strong connection with your community? Have you ever considered a yearlong program idea? Attend this session to learn about one public library's journey to organically spark their communities' interests for the arts and reignite their staff's passion for programming. Over the course of a year, the Monroe Free Library facilitated a year's worth of programs that utilized in-house talent, library displays, exhibitions, and local artists. In this session, the presenters will share how they got started, triumphs, fails, budgeting, marketing efforts and how they sustained the effort and motivation to make this series a success.'

Link to NYLA website